Additional Product Information

The SA SL is a swing arm system is designed for use with a control panel, OICP, or with a control enclosure, OICE. It can be used with either open or closed profiles. The closed profiles increase the loading capacity up to a maximum of 450 N. The system is complemented with an extensive range of different elbows and couplings, which allows for the creation of a fully customized solution with standard products. The SA SL system has been tested to prove it withstands vibrations.
